Looking to the Future: The Prosure360 and Meridian Integration

At Prosure360, we understand the challenges organisations face when common data is required across multiple systems, leading to duplication, delay, and error. That's why we have integrated our supply chain management system with Meridian, a risk management software from William Martin. This integration supports clients in streamlining operations, saving time, and reducing the burden of managing compliance.

Executive Summary

Scott Anderson | Operations Director of Prosure360

As part of the Software, Risk, and Compliance (SRC) division, we understand the challenges organisations face when common data is required across multiple systems, leading to duplication, delay, and error. That's why Prosure360 has been developed with keystone integrations in mind such as our link to the Meridian compliance management system.

With Prosure360, one of the key issues that we solve is providing clear real time visibility of the compliance status of your supply chain. By providing the opportunity to directly view this information in your other compliance systems, you are empowered with the opportunity to assess the risk presented to your business by a supplier at the point of instructing them to work on site.

The Meridian online risk management software form part of the SRC ecosystem that helps organisations better manage their compliance. Offering full visibility into your health and safety performance, this platform empowers you to cut costs, save time, and simplify compliance management.

Essentially, Meridian is the compliance management system that enables you to reduce effort and the burden of managing compliance with disparate and multiple stand-alone processes. By blending these two powerful platforms, we have created an ecosystem where we can share data between different systems and make clients' lives stress-free.

Given that data sharing was such a key part of what we were trying to do, it was crucial that Prosure360 and Meridian were fully integrated. This integrated approach can help our clients simplify compliance management, save time, and cut costs.

While Prosure360 allows our clients to make an informed choice about the service providers they work with, Meridian helps to effectively track and monitor compliance. In combining these systems, we have integrated two of the very best compliance systems, designed to simplify life for our clients.

The ultimate goal of both these systems is to make people's lives easier by offering unrivalled transparency and unparalleled control.

What are the key issues our clients have come across?

One of the main reasons we believe this integration is important is because it will help to solve many of our clients overcome key challenges. Some of these challenges include:

- Building a culture around supply chain standards.

Thankfully, with the Prosure360 and Meridian integration, these client issues are all solved. By integrating Prosure360 with Meridian, our clients can easily share data between multiple systems.
